

Their visit was reported to the police. The local SHO said that these people had no permission to visit the graveyard. They had lied. The officer was of the opinion that the visitors could be having ill designs. “They should not be entertained”, he said.

Dr. Naquiuddin

The audacity of these thugs is baffling. It's high time such miscreants are reigned because even dead Ahmadis, specially heroes who died serving humanity, are not safe from their mischief, in their graves.

Dr. Naquiuddin was a privately practicing doctor who was under no obligation to keep his clinic open during this crisis. He did so because it was situated in an underprivileged part of Islamabad and because many of his patients could not afford healthcare elsewhere.

Only when he was symptomatic and tested positive for the virus, did he close his clinic to self-isolate, and yet this is the thank you he gets? We have a far greater pandemic to fight and overcome once the current crises is over.

Ahmadi denied burial in common cemetery

Kharappar, District Kasur; April 13, 2020: An anti-Ahmadiyya group led by mullas is maniacal against Ahmadis here. In recent past they succeeded in taking over an Ahmadiyya mosque with help of the administration.

Syed Bilal Ahmad, an Ahmadi died here on April 13, 2020. He had been bed-ridden after a fall from an electric pole for the last 11 years. When he was about to be buried in the local common graveyard, the same anti-Ahmadiyya group created hue and cry and resisted his burial there because of his faith. This caused great disturbance and hurt for Ahmadis, and they had to bury him far away.

Ahmadi harassed severely for his faith

Rahim Nagar, District Nankana; March 17, 2020: Mr. Ataul Aziz is president of the local Ahmadiyya community. He is facing severe persecution for his faith. His opponents tried to implicate him in a fabricated police case accusing him of robbery, but failed. Then they lodged another application against him. The application conveyed that Mr. Aziz threatened and abused the opponent party on March 12. It was a total fabrication, but the police sided with the opponent party.

The man who previously accused Mr. Aziz of robbery accused him this time of throwing acid on the applicant's son. The police readily lodged an FIR against Mr. Aziz and two unidentified men and raided his house but failed to arrest him. Mr. Aziz had to get bail the next day. The police is now investigating the matter.

Mr. Aziz is greatly disturbed over all these false reports against him. These reports do not show the Nankana police professionally competent and above-board.

Their conduct during Ramadan and the pandemic

Green Town, Lahore; April 28, 2020: At about the timing of sunset prayers, a few mobsters aged 15–18 came over to the local Ahmadiyya mosque and threw stones at its outer gate. Same day, later, at Isha prayers, they came again in bigger company, and having done the stoning, fled. The guard checked their video and informed community elders. They came and examined the bricks, stones and the video recording. They arranged additional security, and decided against informing the police. The urchins shall be traced and their parents informed.

The foremost issue is to identify the mulla and the organization that tasked these youth for this disgraceful conduct during the month of Ramadan and the ongoing Covid-19.
